Iakwe CMI Community,

We are aware of concern expressed on social media and elsewhere regarding the impact of a recent executive order freezing US grants and loans. CMI is happy to share that this freeze does not affect Title IV funds, which means that our students will be able to receive their Pell grants as usual.

A federal judge has also temporarily halted the executive order, so for now other programs are not impacted. We will continue to monitor the situation in collaboration with other educational organizations and associations.
